Although the instructional resources selection process in CCISD is by the vote of the informed decision makers (SAS members) and not a “popular” vote of teachers/staff, each SAS member is charged with communicating information to his/her representative group about the adoption selections. Similarly, the SAS member must also communicate back to the SAS information from his/her representative group.

Indicate below how you as an SAS member will accomplish this responsibility.

Check all that apply:

- Provide colleagues access to instructional resource samples
- Provide opportunity for colleagues to communicate instructional resource needs
- Provide, as necessary, adoption procedure information to colleagues
- Voice colleague input to SAS
- Relate to colleagues progress of the SAS study/review of instructional resources
- Assist in communication to the community concerning the adoption process
- Assist in communication to the community about instructional resources under consideration
- Relate final recommendation of SAS to colleagues
- Assist in generating any minority reports and/or campus-based waivers
- Relate to colleagues implementation needs for final instructional resource(s) selection
